

DAY OF VICTORY

As Casablanca's eye wanders in the ever-curious search for beauty, keenly observing and always eager to find a colour, a moment, an expression of a time and place that mystifies and invigorates, this season, we turn our focus towards the inexhaustible magnetism of Nigeria.

Much alike the series of colours that shift and alter through the Saharan region, changing guise and varying in tone and atmosphere in different cities, towns, countries, representative of the rich exchanges across cultural disciplines in African art, music and film, we sought to explore a new meeting-point in our collection – a confluence of culture and philosophy between Casablanca and our vision of Nigeria – a representation of a mutually shared optimism for a future that Nigeria propels forward for the world.

It is Nigeria's vitality – movements set forward by the youth, and a key cultural history that stimulates a push towards an abundant future, we hope to highlight an admiration and reflection of our own desire for this revolutionary growth brightening and expanding, globally.

DAY OF VICTORY

Thank you to our Casablanca[®] team for making this show possible.

Founder & Creative Director: Charaf Tajer @charaftajer

Art Director: Steve Grimes @steviegrimes

Production by: La Mode En Images @lamodeenimages

Show styled by: Helena Tejedor @helenatejedor & Ola Ebiti @olaoluebiti

Casting by: Midland Agency

Make-up by: Bryant Artists @bryantartists

Hair by: Cyndia Harvey @cyndiaharvey

Show publicity by: KCD Paris

Press by: Purple PR US & UK

-

Sales represented by: UpNext, Axoim, Diptrics

-

Merci, Charaf & the Casablanca[®] team

Special thanks to Grace Ladoja, the team at Metallic Inc. London and our wonderful partners for their contributions to this collection.
